Our introduction to Yankee Springs, one of the new recreational playgrounds of the Lower Peninsula, was unique to say the least.

With a tent, bed, wood stove and other camping equipment packed into a sturdy two-wheel trailer and cool fall weather in prospect for the week-end, we pulled into Wayland on route to Barry County from Grand Rapids.

Like Joe Doakes everywhere, we were bound for a recreational outing.

Rollo Mosher, editor of the Wayland Globe, was startled to see us. He promptly volunteered to serve as our guide. "The bluebirds are really biting now," he confided, and, like the salesman who had also sold himself, added: "By golly, I'll go fishing with you myself!" Which he did enthusiastically.

Mosher told how a Yankee Springs farmer came in the newspaper office one day with copy for a "For Sale" ad. It read like this: "For Sale—160 farms in Yankee Springs as soon as any there, which isn't saying a hell of a lot."

Yankee Springs has been given the title of being a settlement that lost itself.

Consisting of 4,194 rolling acres of sand and gravel, topped thinly with some black soil, the region was once on a stage coach trail between Battle Creek and Grand Rapids. It got its colorful name from the "Yankee Springs House", a tavern and six log cabins operated by "Yankee Bill" Lewis, and which was advertised by its owner as having "seven stories—each on the ground".

In 1855, when a new plank road was built over a shorter route between Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids, the traffic disappeared. For nearly 75 years, the farmers eked out an existence from the sandy soil. Yankee Springs was forgotten.

In 1934, the U. S. Resettlement Administration declared the area "submarginal" and started buying the old farmsteads and removing the farmers to better land. In August, 1936, the National Parks Service took over the program and continued the work in erosion control, and plantings of native trees, shrubs and imported vines. Fences were removed and buildings razed.

Two organized camps were built. One was located on the east shore of Chief Noonday Lake; the other is on the east shore of Long Lake.

At Random

And the new boss asked me to write a few "randoms". Well, after having been writing this feature for the past 20 years, this should be right up our alley.

Anyway, we are glad to have something to call us back into the old print shop, for we would be dead lost if we had to stay away. So, for perhaps awhile, you can get a piece of my mind.

Gosh, we're glad the American League pennant race is decided. It certainly was getting on my nerves, just as long as the Yankees didn't win, it's OK.

And for gosh sake, perhaps now some of the Detroit newspapers can spare some room for war scare heads.

It strikes us that a pacifist is one who would gladly contribute his wife's relatives on the altar of freedom.

We don't know of anything to put into our radiator to keep the finance company from freezing up.

There seems to come a time in everyone's life when he just can't dodge the tax collector.

A rookie asked a bartender: "Do you serve women here?" The reply was: "Now, you have to furnish your own."

We hope the Indians don't forget to deliver that annual "Indian Summer". —O.P.S.

Light Calendar Faces Circuit Court

OCTOBER SESSION OPENS TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

The October term of Circuit Court will convene next Tuesday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock. It is expected that Judge Schaffer will be on the bench as usual. Only four cases appear on the docket.

There is one criminal case. It is that against James E. Kelly, charged with larceny. Three divorce cases appear in the chancery calendar.

Jesse Schoonover Sells Service Station

MELVIN MARSHALL AND ROY McEVERS TAKE OVER MONDAY.

Another old established business concern is changing ownership. Jesse Schoonover, popular owner of the Grayling Buick Sales and Service, has sold out to Melvin Marshall and Roy McEvers. The new owners will take over next Monday.

Jesse, who is one of the best known business men in Grayling, feels that the business has been pretty strenuous on him for the past few years, and also that as he has worked ever since he was 16 years of age, he is entitled to a little easier life. He will continue in the bulk oil and gasoline business, which will be conducted from his home.

Looking back over the years, he says the many men and families he has met and served have brought him a broad acquaintance that would number into the hundreds. Among them are prominent industrialists and professional men from metropolitan cities. He says he wishes he could reach and shake again the hands of the thousands who, by their patronage, helped to contribute to his success in business. He states he would like again to show his gratitude and thanks.

Melvin Marshall and Roy McEvers are no strangers. Marshall is a mason by trade and is a good business manager, thrifty and industrious. McEvers is one of Grayling's outstanding automobile mechanics. For many years he serviced the county cars and trucks at the county garage. Later he was head mechanic at the Ford garage. Each member of the new firm seems well fitted for such a business and it seems quite the ideal partnership. We wish them success in their new venture.

And Jesse, we trust you will enjoy yourself in your lightened responsibilities.

New Grayling Citizens

Grayling has two bright, shiny, new citizens. Private and Mrs. Lacey Stephan are parents of a son, Lacey Don. The baby's dad is in the Army Ordnance Division at Camp Bowie, Texas.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Atkins of Gaylord, sons to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Short of Grayling; to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Howard of Roscommon; and to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lovely of Maple Forest. All these babies were born at Mercy Hospital during the past week.

Grayling Teachers To Attend Institute

All the Grayling teachers are to attend the M. E. A. Region 5 state institute to be held in Petoskey, Thursday and Friday of this week. Emphasis is being placed in this year's conference on the role of education both during the war and in the reconstruction period after the peace is won. Since the meetings are designed to give on-the-job training to teachers, State Superintendent Eugene B. Elliott has declared the conference a state institute, and teachers may attend without loss of pay.

Local teachers will hear Richard Struna open the conference Thursday morning with a talk entitled, "Can the Democracies Trust Russia?" Struna is a commentator, said to have been the last American to leave Czechoslovakia before America entered the war. John V. Hansen will speak on "The Hawaiian Interlude". Paul T. K. Lin, a keen Chinese student, will address the conference on "People's Century in East Asia". The conference will end with an address by Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction.

"Moms"

Dear Neighbors:

We, the "Moms", wish to thank wholeheartedly you, who so generously contributed to our "Benefit" party. To you goes the credit for its overwhelming success. For no matter how hard the committees work, if the public does not respond, all our efforts are in vain.

When the Holiday Season dawns "Over There" and some heretofore forgotten G. I. Joe is the possessor of a Christmas package from back home, like his buddies, his joy in realizing he's not forgotten is a mark on the credit side of the ledger...

because then we know our efforts have been rewarded. "There is so little we can do to repay them for the sacrifices and hardships they endure. What if our hearts are weary laden? Aren't theirs? We at least are "Home". What a precious thing that is to them! A memory of blessedness, sometimes a little blurred by pain and smoke of battle. But to be a boy in a fox-hole, or to be one on a hospital cot, it's his dream of a "glorious future when I get HOME." This is proven by a letter received by a "Mom" from her son, when he asks:

"How does it seem to be up Home where Heaven is?" This war has taught us a very dear lesson. It has shown us our family ties can not be too close. We are banded together by the separation of a Great Cause. It has brought out the humanity in us we never realized before. But consoling is the knowledge there is never a great loss without some small gain. And in this we realize our neighbor's son is as great a guy as ours, even though he didn't have the same opportunities or a chance of college education as our boy did before he donned the uniform of Uncle Sam. And when he's home on leave, they are as proud and excited as we. When we read of a heroic deed and suddenly realize, "Why, that's the kid that went to school with our John or Jane!" Fearless in the kid who delivered your daily paper, and he'll be out there to help keep "Old Glory" flying.

Aren't we proud we knew him—and maybe wish we had known him a little better. That's the object of the Moms—to bring the community closer together, and by co-operation make "Our Boys" out there a bit happier in the knowledge that the folks back Home are pulling together.

"Proud of him, and not just because he's in uniform, but because he BELONGS to 'Our Home-Town'!"

Again we thank you, because God blesses the tie that binds. Gratefully yours, THE MOMS.

Velma Deckrow, Pres.

FREDERIC-MAPLE FOREST UNIT

The Moms of America met at Frederic town hall, Sept. 28 for an all-day meeting. We very much appreciated seeing so many of our Moms there to help us for the day. We packed and sent out 53 well-filled Christmas boxes to our soldiers overseas. We had a very nice pot-luck lunch with Mrs. Ed Feldhauser as hostess.

We wish to tell the people of our community that our Chapter is always open for enrollment of more Moms whose sons or daughters have joined the Armed Forces. Please don't wait to be asked to join, as you are always welcome.

Our next meeting will be held Oct. 12 at the Frederic town hall. Will all the Moms please turn out and help us make preparations for the future, as we have more Christmas boxes to pack in December.

Appeal Is Issued In Attempt To Halt Breakage

City Manager George Granger Monday night asked the City Council to authorize him to deputize local firemen in order to stop damage and breakage of the city street lights.

United War Fund Notes

The following letter was received from Detroit:

"I'm very happy to enclose a check for $25.00 from the Rainbow Club as their portion of Crawford County's quota on the United War Fund.

Members of the Rainbow Club feel that they should participate in this fund as long as they are financially able because of their enjoying the North Country so much."

Generous contributions have also been received from other summer residents: Mrs. H. W. Wolff of New York City, Guy Garber of Saginaw, Joseph Hirschfeld of Bay City, R. A. Czachorski of Flint, E. A. Mason of Detroit. There will be more of whom we will make mention later.

To date the following from Crawford County have responded: Grayling Funeral Home, A. J. Rehkopf, Shirelee Shoppe, North Central Oil Company, Mac & Gidley, A. J. Nelson, Anton Kangas, National Log Chas. E. Moore, Otto Failing, Peterson's Beverage, E.R. Burns, Marion Burtch, Max Laage, Wm. Leng, Jas. Tobin, Arthur Clough, Grayling Restaurant, A. D. Former Resident Killed In Action

Pfc. Chester George Perry was killed in action in France, Sept. 14, 1944, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. W. F. Lance, Ide Rd., Wilson, N. Y.

Chester entered the services in April, 1941. Serving as a deck gunner with a convoy, he left the States on January 23, 1942, for Australia. He returned in May of the same year. Later he was transferred to the 137th Infantry and left for overseas duty in August 1944.

He was 27 years old, born in St. Ignace Mich., but spent most of his childhood in Mentor Twp. and Wolverine in Cheboygan County. His parents moved to Grayling about 1930, where his father died in April, 1934. The family moved to New York in 1935.

Mrs. Lance will be remembered as Myrtle Reeves. Chester was her only son. He leaves to mourn their loss besides his mother, two sisters, Miss Dorothy Perry of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Miss Velma Perry of Jackson, Michigan.

alanche to those responsible for the breakage in an attempt to stop the loss to the city.

Mr. Granger said that the city was rationed on the number of bulbs that could be bought each month and therefore continued breaking of them would result in some corners in the city going without light.

Next Monday it will be decided if it is necessary to deputize firemen to apprehend the youths responsible. In which case, the offenders will be brought into Probate Court and made to pay any damages.

According to Mr. Granger, the breakage is occurring in widely separated parts of the city, and has been on the increase for over three months. The damage in the last few days has been amounting to over $5 per night. In some cases, the globes have also been destroyed; these cost $3 apiece, Mr. Granger states.

Due to wartime conditions, those responsible for the damage are asked to think of the far-reaching results when they destroy a bulb or globe of a street light. Not only is it the cost of the broken parts, but the time that is required to service the street lights. It has been taking the city employee nearly all morning each day to replace the broken equipment.

Club Honors O. P. Schumann

Highlighting its observance of National Newspaper Week, October 1 to 8, the Kiwanis Club of Grayling Wednesday awarded a Certificate of Citation to the Crawford Avalanche as a testimonial of appreciation for its contribution to the Nation's war program.

The certificate was presented to O. P. Schumann, publisher of the Crawford Avalanche, by Roy Trudgen, president of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling. It was signed by Mr. Trudgen, Club Secretary Jerome Kesseler, and Ben Dean, Grand Rapids, and O. E. Peterson, Chicago, president and secretary respectively, of Kiwanis International.

National Newspaper Week has been observed for several years by Kiwanis International clubs and members throughout the United States. This year, however, Canadian clubs also are participating in the celebration by awarding Certificates of Citation to their local newspapers.

The context of the certificate states that it was presented "in recognition of the service which this newspaper and the other newspapers of the United States and Canada have rendered our two nations during these critical war years. For accurate and comprehensive reporting of the war news for generous and unremitting support of wartime activities on the home front, for fostering sound morale, for fearless and independent editorial opinion, and for unrelaxed vigilance in safeguarding the basic liberties of free speech and a free press."

Kiwanis International's president, Ben Dean, who formerly was city editor of the Grand Rapids Herald, said the service organization was awarding Certificates of Citation as a means of recognizing the "splendid contribution that the newspapers are making to the nation in war as in peace."

Elsie Mae LaMotte Weds Lt. L. Bachman

Of interest to their friends in Grayling is the marriage of Miss Elsie Mae La Motte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Middle La Motte, and 2nd Lt. Leo Bachman. The wedding took place in Lansing on Sept. 18. Lt. Bachman is recently returned from overseas duty. The young couple left for a two-week stay in Miami, Florida.

Serving 30 Days In County Jail

Richard Beebe, 54, of Waterford, is serving 30 days in the Crawford County jail, after pleading guilty to larceny.

It is reported that he appeared at the pulpwood camp of Norman Vallad and asked for work. That was Saturday, Sept. 23.

He was provided with groceries and allowed to sleep in the woods camp.

Sunday morning he was missing. Also missing, it is claimed, were all the food, a steel tape, and three axes. It is reported these latter were sold and the money used for purchasing liquor.

Beebe was apprehended Tuesday night near the Manistee River by Sheriff Papendick and Mr. Vallad, and lodged in the county jail, where he is now serving a 30-day sentence.

WE ARE GLAD TO MEET YOU

As press time approaches for our first edition of the Crawford Avalanche, we wish to make a few points plain to our readers. Our first and fundamental rule will be a fair and, we hope, accurate reporting of the news. Our news columns will not be biased because of a party, creed, or religion.

We will co-operate with all the merchants of Grayling in every way we can. We will to the utmost of our ability get behind all civic projects that are for the benefit of the people of this community.

Of course, being strangers to the city, the gathering of local news about people and happenings in Grayling and surrounding areas will be rather difficult in that we do not know too many people as yet. Local news items will be accepted either by phone or mail. If you are downtown, and remember any item of interest, please stop and leave it, as we wish to meet all the people of this area.

As to the future, we naturally have some plans in mind, but with war conditions we can not promise many changes at the present time. We hope to modernize the paper and add some machinery in the plant, in order to give the people of Crawford County a better paper.

We know that to give a better paper to the public will require a lot of work, as the Crawford Avalanche, under the ownership of O. P. Schumann for the last 33 years, has progressed in a remarkable manner.

The publishing of a community paper is a position of public trust, which we will not forget. The future for the city seems bright at the present time, and we, as editors and publishers of the paper will at all times be 100 percent behind the city.

Cemetery Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Maset, from their cabin on the AuSable, write us as follows:

"Sincerely wishing to share in the splendid and noble work that is being done toward improving and beautifying the final resting place of the departed, please accept our humble contribution herewith enclosed towards this so worthy cause."

We gratefully acknowledge this contribution and tribute, and thank Mr. and Mrs. Maset for their co-operation and liberal donation.

Mrs. Olga Salling Cornwell of Saginaw and Mr. Emil Neiderer of Grayling are added this past week to our growing list of donors. We acknowledge with sincere thanks their donations. During the past week we have received many inquiries and

Former Resident
Dies in Detroit

William Henry Bates, former resident of Grayling, died in Detroit, Wednesday. Funeral services will be held from the Sorrensen Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Rev. Ernest A. Benedict officiating. Burial in Elmwood Cemetery.

Mr. Bates, who was well known here, was preceded in death by his wife, Elnora, in February. He was a brother of the late Melvin Bates.

Frederic News

Miss Doris Leng of Detroit is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Leng.

Mrs. Bessie Cooke is visiting friends in Lansing.

Mrs. Maude Shorts is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Walter Carlson, and family, in Kalamazoo.

Mrs. Harry Horton came home from Center Line last Saturday for a few days. She will return to Center Line Wednesday for a few days.

Miss Beatrice Newberry of Flint graduated Sept. 22 from Hurley Hospital Nurses' Training School, and will continue her duties there. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newberry.

Pvt. Kenneth G. Burkhardt was here last week on a furlough. While here he purchased two lots from Mrs. Oscar Smock and will build a cabin after the war. He is now stationed at Sikeston, Mo.

A number of our residents are improving their property. Kenneth Allen is adding a large kitchen to his home; C. S. Barber is adding a room to his house, where Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Crawford reside. The George Horton house has a new porch.

Mrs. Elijah Flagg is on an extended visit in Pontiac.

Herbert Dodge has purchased the Oldburg house and will move it in town. Mr. Oldburg has gone to Washington for his health.

Many orders for the rebuilding of family plots—so much so that now we are just about booked full for the balance of the season and until winter sets in, when our work has to cease.

Each passing day, the past week, we had many visitors and on Sunday afternoon people sauntered through the cemetery all afternoon. These visits are most encouraging to our Committee as it indicates a personal interest in our work.

We regret to announce that our Superintendent, Otis Cook, has been quite ill and confined to his home for several days as the result of a very bad cold. During his absence, Mr. Ted Bowen is in charge, and the work continues as usual.

We have changed the monthly meeting date of our Committee to the first Tuesday of each month. Our meetings are held in the Court Room of the Court House. One and all are cordially invited to attend our meetings and offer suggestions for the improvement of our service.

Mr. Robert W. Strong, the new owner and Editor of the Avalanche, informs us that the columns of his paper will continue to carry our news and that he is wholeheartedly in sympathy with our project, and wishes to co-operate in every possible manner for the good of the community. We extend a hearty welcome to Mr. Strong and his family to our community and wish him every possible success.

Attention Everyone!
Waste Paper
Collection

The boys and girls of the M. E. Sunday School are having a contest. On Saturday morning, October 7, they will be glad to call for any papers or magazines you may have.

If you are on the boys' side, all you have to do is get in touch with Lee Nolan, who is Captain of the Boys' Team; but if it is the girls you would like to see come out winners, call Betsy Niederer, Captain of the Girls' Team.

The winning team will be guests of the losing team for a Halloween party.

You may also call Mrs. John Mallinger, Phone 4431, who will divide the calls between the two teams.

Remember, this waste paper and magazine collection is Saturday morning, October 7.

If you won't be home Saturday morning, notify Mrs. Mallinger, and she will see that the team members pick them up before then.

Lovells

Mrs. Ward Hamblin is enjoying a couple weeks vacation with relatives in Pennsylvania. Mr. Hamblin accompanied her as far as Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Hamblin are caretakers at the Hirschfeld Lodge.

Mrs. Pauline Loeffler returned home Thursday of last week from Mercy Hospital, where she underwent a major operation a couple weeks previous.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hesson of Gaylord were Lovells callers, Sunday.

Nick Loeffler is improving the outside appearance of the house he recently purchased from Fred Rowe with a coat of white paint. Mr. Loeffler is also preparing to build three new cabins.

A number of Lovellites were anticipating seeing a few games of the World Series, but the St. Louis Browns changed their mind.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Gross and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. L. Stillwagon and family were Lovells callers, Sunday.

Ronald Selley, who has been in boot training at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, has been spending a few days' leave visiting Lovells friends, also at Lewiston, and expects to spend the last part of his leave with Flint friends.

The woods are beautiful, also the hills on all the roads in and around Lovells right now, and many people are enjoying driving around and not only seeing the array of Fall colors, but also counting many deer as they drive along.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, newcomers in Lovells, have accepted the caretaking job for Lester Jackson at his cabin on the North Branch.

Ray Duby is improving his house with new windows and using brick siding, and it looks very nice.

Tommy Douglas was laid up nearly all last week from a bad case of poisoning caused by poison ivy.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews and family of Tennessee are the new family living in the house of Nick Loeffler, recently bought of Fred Rowe. Mr. Andrews works as a partner of Mr. Loeffler.

Northern Lights

Assembly Program

Last week Mr. Kumpula had charge of a very fine assembly program.

Mrs. Frank Gross opened the program by singing "Trees" and "Brown Birds Singing".

Mr. Hans Peterson, Superintendent of the Grayling Fish Hatchery, next gave a fine talk on the "Fish of Crawford County". He told of the Grayling, a species of fish that used to flourish in our AuSable, and how the log runs destroyed their spawning beds.

By 1875 the fish were so scarce that an appeal was made to the Fish Commission of Michigan to aid in replenishing our streams with fish. Several attempts to propagate the Grayling failed, and foreign fish were brought in.

In 1885 the late Rube Babbitt received 20,000 brook trout fry for planting and in 1887 4,000 more were planted by A. C. Babbitt.

Brook trout were not the first planted in Crawford County, however, as in 1873 3,000 Atlantic Salmon were planted, and in 1876 30,000 California Salmon were added. These fish are now called Rainbow Trout.

About 1905 the first planted Brook Trout was caught near Stephen Bridge by Lew Stephenson.

In our lakes the game fish include bass, bluegills, Northern pike, wall-eyes, sunfish, and in Higgins Lake, part of which extends into Crawford County, are lake trout and white fish.

Besides the various types of trout, the Conservation Department plants bass, bluegills and wall-eyes in our lakes and streams each year.

Mr. Clarence Roberts, Conservation Officer, next told us something about the game animals of Crawford County. He had pets from most of the different species of our game animals which make up a part of the almost three million dollar annual fur business in the state.

Last year 36 beaver, 8 otter and 14 coyote, besides many other furs were taken in this county. We had nearly 11,000 deer hunters and upward of 4,000 small game hunters come into this county.

There were five deer hunting accidents, but fortunately none was fatal.

Mr. Roberts stressed the need for extreme care and safety in the handling of firearms.

We sincerely thank Mrs. Gross, Mr. Peterson and Mr. Roberts for their parts in this fine program.

On October 11, Mr. Russell Martin, Superintendent of the Conservation Training School, plans to be here to show the hunters how firearms should be handled to avoid accidents.

Class Sponsors

Last week the newly organized classes in grades 9 to 12 met and chose their faculty sponsors for the year, as follows:

12th—Mrs. N. Hanson, Mr. Bond. 11th—Mr. Stripe, Mrs. Bond. 10th—Miss Burrows. 9th—Miss Bennett.

X-Rays

On Monday Mr. Linden was here and took several chest X-Rays for the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. We certainly appreciate this service, as it safeguards our health.

Mrs. Garman, County Health Nurse, and Mrs. Corwin, School Nurse, assisted Mr. Linden.

M. E. A. Institute

The Grayling schools are closed this Thursday and Friday. The teachers are attending the annual Michigan Education Association Institute, which is being held this year at Petoskey.

Michigan Mirror

Park Service sought to create a recreational center. A bathing beach was built at some expense—complete with a bathhouse. Adjoining this is an ideally situated picnic grounds, overlooking the lake. On the opposite side of the Point is a camp site whose only handicap is its smallness.

It was there, near the lake shore, that we pitched our wall tent, 10 by 12 feet; set up a fish shanty stove and soon had a cheery fire going, while the Missus unpacked the cooking utensils and prepared the evening dinner. The wind was cool to chilly. In the evening we built a campfire outside as a new moon cast silvery reflection upon the waters of the lake. The war seemed far distant. It was good to get away from the city.

Needs of the outdoor camper are comparatively few. Yet they are quite important to the increased use of recreational areas such as Yankee Springs.

The camper wants access to safe water. He wants sanitary facilities, and these do not need to be of the modern kind you expect in your own home. He prefers to have his camp site at some interesting scenic spot—possibly a lake, stream or forest. Water offers opportunities for boating, fishing and bathing. The forest offers a chance for long hikes down well-marked trails.

Having camped in practically every part of Michigan, from the tip of Keweenaw down to Yankee Springs, we have come to the conclusion that possession of land for recreational needs is not enough. Unless the land is utilized, the investment does not bring maximum return of benefits to people in whose name it is held. Parks and all recreational land must be developed. Until adequate facilities are provided, state parks will not be used to their greatest potentiality.

The State of Michigan, having undertaken a program to acquire the Porcupine Mountains as a "timber museum" and to create a chain of recreational parks in a wide area about Detroit, now faces the necessity of adopting a realistic plan for development of these areas where by the people will be attracted to make use of them.

Probate

To the Voters of Crawford County

People in the City of Grayling interested in Children's Welfare have requested me to run for the Office of Judge of Probate.

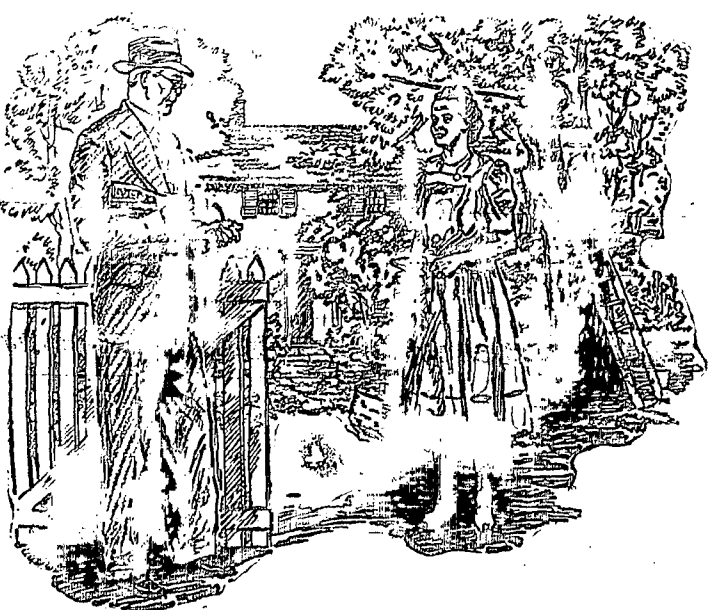

Being interested in the question of Juvenile Delinquency and already appointed to the Planning Board of the Crawford County Youth Guidance Committee, I decided to accept, in as much as the Juvenile Court operates under the Probate Office.

I was nominated in July as one of two candidates running on a non-partisan ticket.

In regard to the Estate Work of the PROBATE OFFICE, you may be assured that my previous office experience will insure you loyal and efficient service. Your vote will be appreciated.

Reverend Svend Holm

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"It sounds almost like a miracle, Judge... how did we ever do it?"

"American industry did it, Sally. When the Japs conquered the chief natural rubber producing centers of the world they thought they had dealt a death blow to our war effort. But, in less than two years, we are producing enough synthetic rubber in this country to supply all our military and essential civilian requirements.

"Our rubber experts knew how to make it but the most practical process at the time required huge amounts of industrial alcohol... far beyond the already overtaxed capacity of our industrial alcohol plants. So, overnight, our country's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey and produced hundreds of millions of gallons of the vitally needed alcohol.

"As a matter of fact, Sally, a high government official said recently '...synthetic rubber is from 6 to 9 months ahead of where it could have been if alcohol had not been available for butadiene production.'"

"We were really fortunate, weren't we Judge, to have a beverage distilling industry in existence... able to help perform this great wartime miracle!"

Rubber Heel Marks

Some of the new wartime rubber heels and soles leave ugly black marks on waxed floors and linoleums. To remove these marks rub them with a cloth moistened with turpentine or a cleaning fluid such as carbon tetrachloride. This removes any wax along with the marks, so wax again.

Unique Ingredient

No satisfactory substitute for licorice root has ever been found, and for the best of reasons - because licorice root contains a unique ingredient glycyrrhizin, which is not found in any other plant in commercial amount, and has defied chemical synthesis.

Friday afternoon, near whistle-time the backfield gang of the Avalanche called Editor and Mrs. Schumann back to the back end of the shop, ostensibly for an ice cream treat. The treat was there, but also a little gift from the force, wrapped up in a big package. O. P. S. fumbled at the untied. Mrs. Schumann was just as nervous. But when the finally had the package open and beheld the gift, well, the good couple were highly pleased—and deeply touched. There is always a camaraderie between the "Boss" and the printer folks—such as you seldom find outside a country print shop. One of the force had been with Mr. and Mrs. Schumann nearly over since they took over the ownership and piloting of the "Avalanche"—we refer to Mrs. Laurant. And Mrs. Laura Parker has been with the publication around 40 years. Those at this little party, besides the honored couple, included Mrs. Laurant, Mrs. Alfred Hanson (former linotype operator here for many years), Mrs. Laura Parker, Miss Lillian Jordan, Miss Joyce Heath, and the writer and wife—the last two comparative newcomers. The Force wishes Mr. and Mrs. O. P. S. many years of usefulness and happiness ahead, and we know they surely do deserve the rest they are taking—a little easing up in the grind. We know, too, that they will be around—often—here where this fine couple enjoyed the happiest days of their lives. Those at this little party, besides the honored couple, included Mrs. Laurant, Mrs. Alfred Hanson (former linotype operator here for many years), Mrs. Laura Parker, Miss Lillian Jordan, Miss Joyce Heath, and the writer and wife—the last two comparative newcomers. The Force wishes Mr. and Mrs. O. P. S. many years of usefulness and happiness ahead, and we know they surely do deserve the rest they are taking—a little easing up in the grind. We know, too, that they will be around—often—here where this fine couple enjoyed the happiest days of their lives.
